

Appendix A. Medical Library Association Ad Hoc Committee to Review Core Clinical Journals: Charge and Members

Committee Charge of the *MLA Ad Hoc Committee to Review Core Clinical Journals

1. Produce an updated core clinical journal (CCJ) list for use in a revised PubMed filter to include journals that are of immediate interest to practicing healthcare individuals, and journals supporting hospital librarians in their efforts to provide access to the essential biomedical literature to their physician and healthcare providers.
2. Document the review process including any additional restrictions or requirements that are deemed important in order to provide a transparent process.
3. Recommend a periodic review process to maintain an updated list.
