

Access to human, animal, and environmental journals is still limited for the One Health community

Carol E. Vreeland, DVM, MLS, AHIP; Kristine M. Alpi, MLS, MPH, AHIP; Caitlin A. Pike, MLS, AHIP; Elisabeth E. Whitman, MS; Suzanne Kennedy-Stoskopf, DVM, PhD, Dipl. ACZM

APPENDIX A

Seminar schedule for the spring 2012 semester of the tri-institutional One Health course

Module 1: Introduction to One Health

January 10: What Is One Health All About? (did not search)

January 17: The One Health Journey: Personal Epiphanies & the History of One Health (did not search)

Module 2: Environmental Health and Ecology

January 24: The Neem Tree: Nature's Bio-Defense at Its Best

January 24: Tropical Forest Regeneration in Costa Rica

January 31: Pollutants and Environmental Health (did not search)

January 31: Mercury Dynamics in Aquatic Systems: Linking Natural Resource Management with Human Health Policy

Module 3: The Human and Companion Animal Bond: The Tie that Binds

February 7: The Links Between Animal Abuse & Family Violence: Implications for the Medical Professions

February 14: Meaningful Uses of Man's Best Friends

Module 4: Zoonoses and Emerging Infectious Diseases

February 21: Center of Excellence for Emerging and Zoonotic Animal Diseases and One Health

February 28: The West Nile Virus Outbreak of 1999: A Compelling Argument for One Health

Module 5: Food and Water Safety

March 13: Water, Sanitation, and Hygiene and One Health

March 13: Microbial Impacts of Animal Agriculture on Water Quality and Human Health Risks

March 20: A One Health Approach to the Leading Cause of Death in Children

March 20: Public Health Issues Related to Industrial Food Animal Production (did not search)

Module 6: Disease Surveillance, Informatics, Disaster Preparedness

March 27: Emergence of a Zoonotic Tropical Disease in the United States: Visceral Leishmaniasis

April 3: One Health Core Competencies—Building Capacity for Response to Emerging Pandemic Threats (did not search)

April 3: The USAID PREDICT Project: Building a Global Early Warning System for Emerging Zoonoses (did not search)

Module 7: Benefits of Comparative Medicine

April 10: Dogs and Spinal Cord Injury—Another Role for Man’s Best Friend

April 10: The Dalfampridine Story—The Making of a Medicine

April 17: Going to the Dogs...For a New Model Organism of Non-Hodgkin’s Lymphoma

Module 8: One Health in the Bigger Picture: Policy, Education, Conclusions

April 24: One Health: A Concept for the 21st Century